Edge guide for ridgid router

I'm just about going to make the transition from my old mastergrip router to the new 2 1/2 hp ridgid router. Before I go and buy it think I wanted to know if anyone knows the edge guide that works with the new model? I know there is an edge guide to the old 2hp router, but no one has confirmed if it worked with the new R29202 plunge base. Does anyone know about any edge guides that work with the new model? Re: Ridgid Router Edge Guide 300869006 is part number edge guide for R2200. Bench Dog Tools 40-102 ProMax Cast Iron Router Table Extension Go to amazon.com FeatureFits all contractor-class table saws and all right tilt cabinet quality table saws that are 27 inches deep with 1-1/2-Inch cast iron tables. Included ProFence quickly demounts and hangs on the condition j-hook while you are using your tablesaw. Ideal for small shops. Includes the top of the router, fence and mounting hardware. ProPlate is sold separately. Plate opening 8-1/4 to 11-3/4. ProLift 40-150 is a 3/8th thick plate. Limited lifetime warranty. DescriptionSp out the versatility of the table saw by adding this industrial class router table instead of the extension wing. Ideal for stores where space is tight, ProMAX includes a cast iron top, Bench Dog's 28 ProFence, a miter meter track that adapts to a no-slop fit. If the workspace is a problem, ProMAX has you covered. Its dual fence slot configuration allows you to rotate the fence and work from any side of the table to maximize the surface area. Plus, with the third retina slot at its disposal, your table saw becomes fully equipped to handle transverse sleds. Adopts 8-1/4 x 11-3/4 router table plates. Note: ProMAX cannot be installed as a replacement left extension on the left-weight cabinet class table saws, as the table saw motor protrudes to the left. ProMAX can also not be installed as the correct extension replacement on the right tilt cabinet class table saw for the same reason. Mounting ProMAX on the far right will avoid pro-rouing the engine, however, ProMAX should be supported by two steel rails that also support your T-square-style rip fence and legs. 5.
